

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

following subjects: Early Years, Fighting the Federalists, The Jay Treaty, The Retirement of Washington and the French War, The Va. Resolutions of 1798 and the Election of 1800 Republican Reformation, War on the Courts, Monroe's Treaty and the Burr Trial, The Chesapeake Outrage and the Treason Bill, The Campaign of 1808; Repeal of the Embargo, The Smith Faction, The War of 1812, Triumphant Insurgency, "Putting Claws on Gallatin," Closing the War, Retirement of Senator Giles, States Rights in Virginia after the War of 1812, The Convention of 1829-30.

ENGLISH ECONOMIC HISTORY. SELECT DOCUMENTS. Compiled and Edited by E. A. Bland M. A., of His Majesty's Public Record Office, P. A. Brown M. A. Lecturer in the University of Durham, and R. H. Tawney, M. A., author of "The Agrarian Problem in the Sixteenth Century," London, G. Bell and Sons, Ltd. 1914, pp. xx, 730, with full index.

The rapidly growing interest in Social and Economic History has produced in recent years a large number of books dealing with different aspects of that subject. No work, however, has appeared, prior to this which illustrates English economic history from original documents in the same manner as constitutional history is illustrated by the well known selections of Stubbs, Prothero and Gardiner, and it is the object of the authors partially to fill this gap. The documents included, many of which are printed for the first time, begin with the Rectitudines Singularum Personarum and end with the debate on the Repeal of the Corn Laws. The book is divided into parts and sections, and each section is preceded by a short introduction. It is hard to conceive of a more valuable book for students of Economic History than the one before us, and the "general reader" who cares nothing for economics, and who may be disposed to doubt whether the world is getting better will find healthy if disturbing reading in the chapters which treat of conditions among factory and mine operatives the first half of the Nineteenth Century.

THE MILITARY HISTORY OF THE VIRGINIA MILITARY INSTITUTE From 1839 to 1865. With Appendix, Maps and Illustrations. By Jennings C. Wise, formerly Commandant of Cadets, Virginia Military Institute. Colonel of Engineers, Virginia Volunteers, Lynchburg, Va. J. P. Bell Company, Inc., 1915, pp. 576, with full index.

The glorious history of actual service in the field by the V. M. I. Cadet battalion and by individual alumni is admirably told by Col. Wise. Few institutions can show such a record. Deducting 121 who were either in the Federal army, in hostile territory or not in service, 14 per cent of all alumni living in 1861 were killed or died in Confederate service. Every old cadet, and every one interested in the military history of our country should own this volume.

BURFORD GENEALOGY, Showing the Ancestors and Descendants of Miles Washington Burford and Nancy Jane Burford, the Father and